This is the kind of home families wait months for — and regret missing. With over $150,000 in renovations already done, this 5-bedroom Silver Springs home gives you something rare: space, location, and zero work required. Designed for real family living, the main floor offers a bright open layout centered around a custom kitchen with a large island — perfect for busy mornings, homework time, and hosting. Massive windows bring in natural light while overlooking peaceful green space right out front. Upstairs, the primary bedroom comfortably fits a king bed and includes a private ensuite, while two additional bedrooms and a fully renovated bathroom make this an ideal setup for growing families. The lower level is where this home stands out — large windows, a fireplace, full bathroom, and extra bedroom create the perfect space for teenagers, guests, or extended family — without feeling like a basement. Downstairs adds even more flexibility with another bedroom and space for a home office, gym, or hobby area. Outside, enjoy a large backyard, garage, and room to actually live — not just maintain. And the location? This is why people move to Silver Springs: * Across from green space (no front neighbors) * Walk to Bow River pathways * Minutes to schools, shopping & parks * Quiet, established community Homes with this level of renovation, space, and location don’t come up often — and they don’t last. If you’ve been waiting for the right one, this is it.
